ELMHURST HIGH SCHOOL
FORT WAYNE, INDIANA

Hail to old Elmhurst High!
Four long years that's been our cry.
We soon found out that jug's the fine
For crowding in the noon lunch line.
Those happy days with (sigh) no passes
To wander round 'fore morning classes!
We yelled at all the games of course,
And none cared when we got hoarse.

Then, alas, came the post-game dance
When we went out and took a chance
To lure that favorite guy or gal;
And then, oh, woe, we made a pal!
The prom was our chance for the season's big date
We danced for hours 'n' hours and stayed out late.
These of course are just short sections
Of seniors' many long reflections.

—Sandy Means

Forum is a club where students can "blow off steam." Members speak in two main fields, debate and interpretation. Interpretation is divided into dramatic, humorous, extemporaneous, oratory and poetry. Members compete with students from other schools and earn points according to ratings. After an accumulation of twenty-five points, they may become members of the National Forensic League, which is a national honor fraternity. As their points increase, they can advance in degrees of award. At the beginning of the year, Forum and Debate held their annual debate meet. In February, Forum sponsored "Cupid Capers" a Valentine semi-formal.

A banquet at the end of the year sums up the hard work and fun for the staff. Award E's and Quill and Scroll pins are given to deserving members at this time.

Twenty Trojans tried out for cheerleaders before the Booster Club on November 2, 1962. Out of this group nine were chosen, five varsity and four reserve cheerleaders. The Varsity five were centered around the only returning varsity cheerleader from the year before, Cheryl Smith. Senior Phil Kauffman and Junior Sandy Hostetler were the other upperclassmen who had reserve experience last year. Sophomores Nancy Bolyard and Connie Greeno, in their first year of high school cheerleading, rounded out this varsity quintet. Juniors Sherry Krinn, Barb Thorne, Barb Burke and Sophomore Cindy Cutshall made up the talented reserve team. All nine cheerleaders made their first appearance before the school body on November 16, 1962, and saw their first game action on November 23, 1962. Only Cheryl and Phil will graduate this year while the others will serve as cheerleaders for the coming football season.

The Marching Trojans experienced several interesting events this year. They participated in various contests and played at the football and basketball games. Mr. Robert Myers was the new band director this year. A string orchestra began its first year at Elmhurst. The band paid for their new uniforms with money-making projects such as candy sales and record hops. Anyone who was interested in music and willing to practice was welcomed to the band.
